Project Summary

pharmacology lecture to be incorporated into the online opioid best practices course, lecture created using prezi format in order to be engaging/different and appeal to students' learning in a creative way -- hopefully a better way for students to learn somewhat dry material "

Action Items/Outcome

Review of opioid pharmacology to allow future interns the ability to UNDERSTAND the basic science behind the drugs they are prescribing! how different drugs act at different receptors, different receptors can cause different side effects, etc.

Conclusion/Reflection

It will be great to see what students think of using prezi as a mode of teaching/learning info rather than plain powerpoints! also whether or not they found the review easy to follow/comprehensive given that basic science reviews can sometimes feel as if we are being bogged down/overwhelmed with information.
