Developing core recommendations for bereavement care after stillbirth

Stillbirth has huge global impact with the highest burden in low and middle income countries.

The 2016 Lancet Stillbirth Series called for a 'global consensus on a package of care after a death in pregnancy or childbirth'.

A workshop of international experts, in partnership with the International Stillbirth Alliance, identified nine 'core recommendations' for stillbirth bereavement care. This survey aims to gather your opinion as a healthcare worker, so that we can develop a set of global bereavement care principles, which will be both feasible and useful.

Please complete this short survey, it will take around 10 minutes.

Thank you!
