

readme for “A grammar of Tiranige (Dogon, Mali)”

This document was published electronically in February 2022 as part of Language Description Heritage Library. It is accessible at the following link as well as here as a backup in Deep Blue Documents:

The 2022 version is intended to be final. It supercedes a 2020 draft that is still available online at the following link but should be disregarded.

The grammar ends with the textual material available for this language. Several short texts (T1 through T6) were transcribed from dictated early in the fieldwork, probably in 2012, and there is no recording for them. A recording lasting over 20 minutes was made in 2017. This is text T7 at the end of the grammar, from transcription begun in 2017 and completed in 2021.

There is also a “Tiranige lexicon” in csv format that was published electronically in 2022 along with the grammar. The link is:

A backup of the lexicon along with the audio file in .wav format for text T7 will be archived in Deep Blue Data as a work “Tiranige Dogon language of Mali (spreadsheets and media)” funding from National Science Foundation, Documenting Endangered Languages program.
