Feeling Digital

Winter 2023
DIGITAL 258
Jeff Nagy
M/W 10:00 - 11:30 am

We're used to thinking about digital technologies in terms of data and information. But digital systems also measure, police, and monetize our feelings and how we give them voice. In this class, we'll look at digital technologies not just as information systems but as emotional ones. We'll investigate how they became a home for age-old feelings like joy, sadness, and shame — and we'll explore how they might be prompting new ones.
