A BIBLIOGRAPHY ON
HISTORICAL STUDIES OF CHANGING FERTILITY

Charles Tilly
University of Michigan
July 1974

This is the draft bibliography of Charles Tilly, ed., Historical Studies of Changing Fertility, prepared for publication in the Mathematical Social Science Board/Princeton University Press Studies in Quantitative History. It draws on the references to articles by Richard Easterlin, E. A. Wrigley, Lutz Berkner, Franklin Mendels, Ronald Lee, Etienne van de Walle, Maris Vinovskis and Rudolf Braun as well as on my own work. I am grateful to Chantal Bancelhon, Judy Davidson, Pam Hume, Karen Metrick and Kit Tilly for help in assembling the bibliography.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

This is a provisional bibliography for the entire book, not just for the introductory article. It includes every publication mentioned in the book, plus a few items illustrating the various types of analysis discussed in the introduction, and a few more items used for background but not cited.
