INTRODUCTION

This bibliography is a companion to "Statistics on the Urbanization of Europe, 1500-1950," "Selected Readings on Communities, Cities, and Urbanization", and "Selected Readings on Political Change". The Center for Research on Social Organization sells them at cost as a service to students, teachers, and researchers. I have designed the bibliography with a hypothetical graduate student in mind: someone who already has a working familiarity with Europe, but is just beginning to study some aspect of European community structure, cities, or urbanization. That aim should not stop it from being useful to others who know less, or more, about the subject matter.

Obviously the bibliography is far from comprehensive. I have tried to construct it so that the reader who has some particular problem in mind can find at least a few references dealing with the problem, and those references, in turn, will lead right into the main literature dealing with the problem. For that purpose, I have favored recent publications over old ones and publications with extensive bibliographies over thinly-documented ones.

Because of my base in Western Europe and because of the limits of my linguistic competence, the bibliography is weak on Scandinavia, Eastern Europe and, especially, the region from Turkey to Yugoslavia. I am circulating it in preliminary form with the hope that experts will help me fill the gaps. I would be glad to have the crucial references (not, please, the entire bibliographies) for areas, periods and particular cities I have slighted. Where I have garbled the citation or missed a valuable source for a place or time that is already represented on the list, I would also like to have that information. The same goes for general topics, research procedures or kinds of evidence you think should be represented in the bibliography's next edition.

Members of the 1971-72 Center seminar at our Center for Western European Studies gave me much-needed assistance in assembling the first version of this bibliography. Karen Fonde co-edited two early versions, and thereby made a major contribution to this one. Louise Tilly, Lynn Lees, Kingsbury Marzolf, and John Merriman also gave me a good number of good suggestions. And, as so many times before, Sheila Wilder helped enthusiastically with the bibliography's production.
