THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN
SYMPHONY BAND

In 1961 a group of 94 student musicians and 10 staff members from the University of Michigan brought their wind band music to the people of the Soviet Union. It still stands today as the longest U.S. State Department sponsored large group cultural exchange trip.

In celebration of the 50th anniversary of that tour, members of the band and their families have returned to Russia to renew ties with people and revisit sites and facilities of the marvelous Russian culture.

Our thanks are extended to you for helping to make our visit so memorable.
