Logistics of Project

- Questions/concerns about collections/archives to ask
 - Nature of source: Who is the author? What are they discussing? Is it primarily political, economic, or military history? How was this source acquired? Language? Date? etc.
 - Logistics: Was the institution or person affiliated helpful in finding this document? Is it easily accessible? Is it digitized? How did they find it/collect the document? Do they recommend any other collections/historical societies/archives?
- Website design ideas
 - Intended audience: Faculty/scholars, graduate students, undergraduate students (or enthusiasts) interested in Philippine history or conducting research on Philippine history under the American period
 - Goal: to provide an easily accessible, user-friendly web layout for such individuals to find Philippine sources in the state of Michigan (and other states mentioned in the work plan and learning objectives). Less-studied/under-utilized sources will be highlighted in the research guide to make it easier for such individuals to conduct research.
 - Ideas:
 - Some sort of map layout → state by state basis, zoom in and out feature, ability to use tags to find relevant docs. (ex. “women’s history”, “1950’s”, “U.S.-Philippine relations”), basic map with list of states underneath (more user-friendly)
 - Simple list feature with tabs → Sort by state, then location/collection, then documents, sort of time period and topic of history
 - Complications could involve whether or not to include previews of docs. or not, or blurbs about the nature of the doc (blurbs could be easier, i.e. author, title, content, date)
 - Would this be through U-M or a separate website? Could make a research guide but already is one for Southeast Asian studies
- Repositories left to investigate/call:
 - Clements Library
 - Northville Historical Society (Northville, MI) - letters pertaining to Philippines

Week of 5/11-5/15

- ~~Prep: read documents provided by Susan on Philippine history~~
- Goal: 25% mark by the end of the week
 - Meet with Bentley Library and select documents for digital project with Susan → will be meeting with Bentley next week
 - ~~Search rest of Special Collections/library for other Philippine docs:~~
 - ~~Meet with Special Collections librarians if time permits (if not, wait until next week)~~
 - ~~Search U-M satellite campuses (Flint, Dearborn)~~
 - ~~Contact any other Philippine studies professors through U-M → sources may have used on campus or in the state of Michigan~~
 - Contact government entities, independent libraries, community scholars, etc.
 - Via phone or email (phone preferable) → will have to do next week \(didn't get phone access until 5/14\)
- Steps for next week:
 - Set up requests with Special Collections

Week of 5/18-5/22

- Goal: have all repositories called, begin working with the Bentley, comb through primary sources in Special Collections
 - Meet with Bentley on Tuesday 5/19 and interview collector/select documents for digital project with Susan (done)
 - Continue investigating Special Collections resources → let Susan know if you need help
 - Call/email repositories on 5/19 and 5/20 about Philippine documents and ask questions (done→ all)
 - Clements Library (contacted and have heard back from them via email)
 - Northville Historical Society (Northville, MI) - letters pertaining to Philippines, Archivist Carri Lee: 248-348-1845, only open Mondays and Tuesdays from 9:00 AM-1:00 PM

- Clark Historical Collection, Mt. Pleasant, MI
- Wayne State University
- Set up meeting with Clements Library about Philippines docs. there and how to access them (done → waiting for response)
- Email Joseph Galura (done → waiting for response)
- Questions to ask Bentley people
 - How did you acquire these materials? Were most of them donated? If they weren't, how did you find these people and secure the materials?
 - Are the majority of correspondents men or women?
 - How often are the Philippine documents used? Do you know which ones are used most frequently? What questions do people ask?
- Questions to ask acquisitions people (5/20)
 - How did you acquire these materials? How did you track down the people who didn't donate? What did you say to them? Did you use any resources or was it mostly word of mouth? How do you determine what's a valuable source without the capabilities to meet with people physically? What do you think the Philippines collection is lacking?
 - Do you have any advice from an acquisitions perspective about what kind of materials we should seek out/include in our research guide?

Next steps:

- MacArthur Foundation Library→ Hasema family
- Wisconsin→ keep looking
- What are the docs. that are often used? Similar questions to Len, CC Susan on emails so that she can chime in
- Spot check collections to see if the descriptions are up to date, look for racial/gender/social history (only underused collections)
- Philippine literary journals on minorities in the Philippines

Week of 5/25-5/29

- Goal: have gone at least $\frac{1}{3}$ through Special Collections materials and began with Bentley. Halfway done with Wisconsin and have chased down all appropriate leads within Michigan. Meeting with Clements Library.
 - Begin spot checking collections at the Bentley and continue with Special Collections
 - Look into the MacArthur Foundation library (call/email appropriate people→ Susan is handling)
 - Follow up with people who haven't responded to last week's emails (CC Susan)
 - Call Northville Historical Society (will have to wait until Monday of next week)
 - Keep looking into Wisconsin sources ($\frac{1}{2}$ done by Friday)
 - Check at U-M and other repositories investigated about Philippine literary journals on minorities for fellows student (didn't really find anything here at U-M, will check other universities)

Repository Archive

- Research is separated by state, institution, and collection/archive. Notes are added in blue next to documents. The listings below are merely a record of interesting/noteworthy documents found here or in other locations in Michigan either through university archives, government archives, public libraries, or historical societies.

Michigan:

Burton Historical Collection

- Series of personal letters of Michigan soldiers. Can be found by searching for "Philippines". These letters all pertain to Frank Murphy's service in the Philippines. The two that have online finding aids (Edward G. Kemp and Joseph Edward Mills) are the most frequently used of the four at the Burton. They're not in any special collection--they're just located in the stacks of the Main Library. Someone would have to really know what they're looking for to access the other two without online finding aids.
 - Edward G. Kemp papers, 1937-1938
 - Finding aid:
http://dplopac.detroitpubliclibrary.org/WebCat_Images/English/Other/FindingAids/web/bhc02956.xml
 - Edward Kemp was born in St. Clair, Michigan in 1887. He attended the University of Michigan and graduated with his law degree in 1887. Mr. Kemp practiced law in Detroit from 1916 to 1933 when he was appointed legal advisor to the Governor General of the Philippines, Frank Murphy. When Frank Murphy was elected governor of Michigan in 1937, Kemp became his legal adviser and held this post through 1938. Mr. Kemp was appointed Assistant Attorney General of the United States in 1938 and was general counsel to the U.S. Bureau of the Budget from 1940 to 1949. Edward died in 1962. (from Who's Who in American 1954-1955).
 - Norman H. Hill papers, 1935-1942
 - No finding aid online.
 - 1 box, 0.5 linear ft. 1 copy available at Main Library.
 - Correspondence, clippings, speeches, etc. during Frank Murphy's term as governor of the Philippines.
 - Hester Everard letters, 1918-1934
 - No finding aid online.
 - 1 box, 1 copy available at Main Library.
 - Letters from Frank, Mary and Margaret Murphy, Detroit (Mich.), Harbor Beach, and Manila, Philippines. Personal correspondence, family papers.
 - Joseph Edward Mills papers, 1916-1934

- Finding aid online:
 - http://dplopac.detroitpubliclibrary.org/WebCat_Images/English/Other/Findingaids/web/ms_mills.xml
 - Paper containing correspondence, miscellaneous materials and scrapbooks.
 - Born in Greenville, Michigan on August 11, 1894, Joseph Mills came to Detroit in 1912. He attended Cass High School in Detroit, and New York University. Rejected by the U.S. Army, Mills became Service Manager for Packard Motor Car Company. He was elected president of the National Association of Purchasing Agents. Mills was appointed commissioner of purchases and supplies for the City of Detroit in 1926 by Mayor John W. Smith, and became general manager of Detroit Street Railways (DSR) in 1932. One year later he went with Michigan Governor Frank Murphy to direct government enterprises in the Philippines, where he died of typhoid fever on April 6, 1934.

Wisconsin Historical Society:

- Jane Theresa Taylor photograph collection
 - The Jane Theresa Taylor photograph collection documents her activities as an Army nurse in the Panama Canal Zone (1904-1907), at the Mission Hospital in Davao, Mindano, Philippines (ca. 1911-1918) and as a missionary in France during World War I. Taylor was a native of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. Related records are available in the Jane Theresa Taylor manuscript collection, including correspondence concerning her appointments as a nurse in the Canal Zone, the Philippines, Europe, and elsewhere; letters from Taylor to her family describing her travels in Panama, Chile, Argentina, and Brazil, 1931-1932, and Mexico, 1935; clippings concerning her nursing career; and miscellaneous other materials.
 - Features a “Buy” button for personal use or for commercial/non-profit use, but requires written permission to use→ need to physically visit the Historical Society to view it
 - Can contact staff by email: askphotos@wisconsinhistory.org
- Crockett, Albert Stevens (1903-1961)
 - Author and journalist. Correspondence (1907-61), MSS. of writings, parts of an autobiography in progress, journal of a trip to the Philippines in 1913, and miscellaneous printed matter.
- Twining, Nathan Crook (1888-1917)
 - Naval officer. Letters written by Twining to his brother, referring mainly to family and budgetary matters. A few discuss public affairs in which Twining was involved: preparations for the Spanish American War and naval battles at San Juan and Santiago, Cuba (1898); American expansion (1899); life in the Philippines (1902); plans to prevent “flare backs” in the firing of naval guns (1907); world politics in the Pacific (1908); and etc.
