Why is a student-led conference needed?

LIS students need...
- an introduction to professional conferences during graduate school
- experience giving presentations to a professional audience
- space to informally discuss ideas, outside of the classroom
- to learn how to network in a low-stakes yet professional-like environment
- an opportunity to engage in service work

QuasiCon 2016 by the numbers

- 47 attendees
- 27 presenters
- 4 Planning Committee members
- 90 bagels, 2 sheet cakes, and countless cups of coffee and tea!

Benefits of a student-led conference

- Demonstrate professional engagement and lifelong learning
- UMSI alumni: Reconnect with their alma mater

Lessons learned

- Create a diverse Planning Committee. Each member brings unique strengths, experiences, and professional network.
- Send targeted requests, which yield more responses than blanket email requests.
- Provide food for attendees, including those with dietary restrictions. Ending the day with cake has been a hit!
- Pick swag that adds value to the conference.
- Build a support network.
- Assess the impact of the conference by gathering attendee feedback.
- Collect suggestions for improvement from the Planning Committee members.
