Welcome!

This toolkit is here to help you at any point — while you're getting ready for, in the midst of, and as you're debriefing from many different learning experiences

A great place to start is by assessing your current knowledge to help point you toward people, activities, and modules that can meet your personalized needs. Or you can select the kind of experience you're having or about to have and jump right in to all of the available resources.

Questions? Contact us at iteamproject@umich.edu.

We then used Google Sites to prototype what the toolkit could look like as a user-friendly website, including resources for many different engaged learning domains.

ABOUT
RESOURCE INDEX

Study Abroad

Before you go

- Logistics
- language proficiency
- intercultural communication
- U-M resources
- social context of the host country

While you are abroad

- talk about yourself
- feedbacks
- self-care
- learn some skills
- journalling

Using study abroad as an example, we collected resources on different high-priority topics based on our research. Clicking on the topics leads the user to a one-page PDF that contains links to various resources.
