

Reviews of Geophysics

EDITORIAL

10.1002/2016RG000523

Key Point:

• Editorial thanking reviewers of RoG in 2015

Correspondence to:

M. Moldwin,
mmoldwin@umich.edu

Citation:

Moldwin, M., F. Florindo, G. Okin, E. Rohling, and A. Robock (2016), Appreciation of peer reviewers for 2015, Rev. Geophys., 54, 277, doi:10.1002/2016RG000523.

Received 26 APR 2016

Accepted 29 APR 2016

Accepted article online 4 MAY 2016

Published online 16 JUN 2016

Appreciation of peer reviewers for 2015

Mark Moldwin¹, Fabio Florindo², Greg Okin³, Eelco Rohling⁴, and Alan Robock⁵

¹University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, USA, ²Istituto Nazionale di Geofisica e Vulcanologia, Roma, Italy, ³University of California, Los Angeles, California, USA, ⁴Australian National University, Canberra, ACT, Australia, ⁵Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey, USA

On behalf of the authors and readers of Reviews of Geophysics, American Geophysical Union, and the broader scientific community, the Editors would like to sincerely thank those who reviewed the manuscripts for the Reviews of Geophysics in 2015. The hours reading and commenting on the comprehensive review papers not only improves the manuscripts themselves but also increases the scientific rigor of future research in the field. Chidong Zhang (University of Miami) went beyond and reviewed three manuscripts for our journal. The refereeing contributions you made contributed to 78 individual reviews of over 30 submitted manuscripts. Thank you again. We look forward to a 2016 of exciting advances in the field and communicating those advances to our community and to the broader public.