

Supplementary Figure 2. Average contribution of each marker to the sum of absolute values of the DLDA scores. We summed the absolute values of the scores from each antibody when using all twelve of them in the classification of each sample, and calculated the fraction of the sums that was due to each antibody, averaged over all the samples.