7 RECOMMENDATIONS FOR A SCALABLE & SUSTAINABLE FUTURE FOR OA MONOGRAPHS

1. Limit to highest quality content from trusted scholarly publishers
2. Implement scaled pricing to enable smaller schools to participate
3. Employ business models that are sustainable, i.e. straightforward and financially fair to libraries and publishers, and transparent to users
4. Gather reliable local usage data
5. Improve discoverability by standardizing workflows and best practices
6. Advocate for OA monographs among faculty and school administrators
7. Institute campus-wide OA policies

SURVEYS OF ACADEMIC LIBRARIANS CONCERNING OPEN ACCESS MONOGRAPHS

2013 KU Pre-Pilot Survey of Libraries
- Responses: 62 from U.S. & U.K.
- Focus: ideal platforms (HathiTrust, JSTOR, Project MUSE), selection (subject packages or individual titles), pricing, number of titles
- 51% of US respondents were concerned or somewhat concerned about free riders.

2014 OAPEN-UK Librarian Survey
- Responses: 109 from U.K.
- Focus: acquisition, discovery, business models
- 43% participate in OA monograph initiatives using library-funded, consortium-based business models.

2015 PCG OA Monographs Survey
- Responses: 152 from 34 countries; 78% librarians, 17% publishers, and 5% library staff member
- Focus: acquisition, discovery, funding, role of libraries
- 68% of libraries decide to list OA books in their catalog based on relevance to the curriculum while 67% do so by faculty request.

- Responses: 103 from 37 states and D.C.
- 1 authoritative response per library
- Focus: acquisition, discovery, business models
- 103 valid responses

"We want to support models that seem sustainable and economical. OA initiatives that appear to perpetuate the status quo publishing model on the backs of libraries is not one we are likely to support."

"Freeriders are institutions who don’t contribute to OA initiatives, for whatever reason (budgetary, philosophical, etc.). I’m not sure that I’m not worried about that, but I can control their actions, I can only control my own. It doesn’t make sense to me to use lack of support by others as a factor as to whether or not I contribute."

"The best business model is that which provides the best literature to the most people for the least cost. We would reject a business model that imposed fees on authors."

"I don’t have time to worry about another institution who ‘can’t afford it’ ‘freereading’ (besides, it’s an oxymoron). But to enable the rest of the world—individuals as well as institutions in the U.S. and globally that ‘don’t have many resources— it’s all good!"

"Notifications to us from the OA initiative about the availability of MARC records is ideal (don’t make us chase after the records, or have to enter reminders to check for records into our calendars, please); the earlier the better, esp for front list titles, to avoid ordering duplicates."

"We’re needing to support more and more of our collection budget expenditures with metrics - and I’d hate to see OA initiatives collapse (with institutions not being able to continue support) because they missed that metrics train."
