"We're noticing the way language plays out in our day-to-day interactions. There is no sound too small to attract our attention" #iaw2015

Do we have control over how other people hear our language? Should we? We walk through the world noticing all of language. #iaw2015

What is language? What happens with language? What matters about language? #iaw2015 We have strong sense we know, but it's incomplete

How do we eval language fr others? Language makes it poss for us to "read one another's minds". Defining characteristic of species #iaw2015

"Language is ENTRENCHED in our body. Our biology is formed around language." #ia2015 We are driven to do this just as to walk.

Chimpanzees can learn to use parts of language, but sentences are hard for them. Easy for 4yo kids.

Chimp Talk Debate: Is It Really Language?

Suddenly, the chimp pulled one of them aside.

"American Sign Language has no heritage shared with English. It is closer to French Sign language" #ia2015
Proposal: "Whatever a human produces that is systematic is grammatical. Whatever it is." #iaw2015 This doesn't mean it's standard, tho.
4:18 PM - Oct 14, 2015

The tool here is to think of linguistic variation as DIFFERENCE not deficit. Forget the rules, says Robin Queen. #iaw2015
4:19 PM - Oct 14, 2015

Double negation is standard in French. Considered wrong in standard English, but try thinking different instead. #iaw2015
4:19 PM - Oct 14, 2015

Then what happens with the judgments of grammar? Loading the social onto use of language. #iaw2015
