Hello!

I am Gabriel Mann

University of Michigan Class of 2019
International Studies & Asian Languages and Cultures
Nam Center Research Fellow
Project Overview

- Explore the kinds of news content the library is able to provide
- More effectively document the process of acquiring international news resources
- Have a better understanding of the news landscape internationally
In the nonstop tsunami of global information, librarians provide us with floaties and teach us to swim.

Objectives

- Become more readily able to describe the scope of the international news content provided by the library
- Better able to articulate campus needs in regard to news content
- Better documentation of the library’s current practices in terms of acquiring news content from all over the world
What I Worked On

- Comparative evaluation of other university research guides
- Use case brief
- Survey
- Interviews
- News content ‘watchlist’
- Executive summary
What kind of questions should be asked?
What is the best method of organizing the library’s international news content?

Conclusions & Findings

- U-M Library is able to provide the most widely utilized news resources across a wide range of regions and countries.
- Issues with acquiring new news content stem from third-party vendors who...
  - Prohibit their content from being distributed due to factors such as copyright claim
  - Do not offer what patrons need or censor their content
- Each academic library has its own unique organization system that suits the needs of the university’s patrons.
Lessons Learned

- An understanding of the organization, scale, services, and work within itself in the U-M Library
- How International Studies and Asia Library librarians each work to acquire news content, manage their resources, and make them discoverable for patrons
- Project Management Skills
- Professional Communication
Potential Next Steps

◉ Continue updating the news resources guides
◉ Propose ideas for new search tools
◉ Continually update ‘Watch List’ with news content that could be important in the future
Thanks!
