Description: Le Hot Blu Book, Music and Lyrics by Anita Gonzalez and Ken Lauber Le Hot Blu is a syncopated American musical about a Harlem neighborhood uniting around a bebop club called Le Hot Blu. FRANKLIN Gilboa runs the club and an Italian mobster named FENZI wants the establishment for his own. Franklin's daughter, VINCY, sings at the nightclub every night, but wants something more from her life. When DOC, an aspiring jazz pianist (and the Jewish boy next door) plays at the club, a musical love affair begins to bloom. Set in the 1947 bebop era, the musical is performed by a multi-cultural cast of fourteen that features six band members, three female club singers, and five character actors. New York Theatre Workshop (2010), at Creole's Restaurant as part of the Potpourri Festival (2010). Directed a cabaret -style reading of the work at the Manhattan Theatre Club studios (2008). These files include music, videos, sequences, scripts, credits, and a program.
