

Shipwrecks and Fantasies

Readings from Shakespeare's Tempest & Lewis Carroll's Hunting of the Snark

Friday, May 10, 2013
8:00 p.m. – 10:00 p.m.

Library @ The Players Club
16 Gramercy Park,
New York, NY 10003

The Players Dress Code:
Business Casual
(no shorts, tanks, gym wear, etc.)

Come revel in the language of fantastical poetry!

Join your fellow Players and a group of animated actors for a presentation of excerpts from Shakespeare's Tempest and Lewis Carroll's Hunting of the Snark in the library of the Players Club at Gramercy Park.

The Tempest, set on an abandoned island, is "the bard's" last play. Prospero, with his servant Ariel, weaves magic and wrecks a ship that brings star-crossed lovers to their fates.

In The Hunting of the Snark the Bellman takes the crew on a voyage to find a monster with the Butcher the Baker and a Beaver. A Banker and a Barrister who come along for the ride have nightmares. Finally the Baker finds his fear, sees a boojum and disappears.

Non-Member Tickets - Suggested donation of $20

This event is presented by Art Boundaries Unlimited, Inc. The non-profit organization is currently accepting proposals to support collaborations that align with their mission of international exchange in the arts.

Email candi@artboundariesunlimited.com to learn more & RSVP.
Limited Seating – Please RSVP in Advance of this Event

ART BOUNDARIES
UNLIMITED