Preparing for your Literature (and other sources) Review

September 27, 2021

SI 549 Fall 21

Rebecca Welzenbach

Research Impact and Information Science Librarian

This is me:

I've been with the U-M Library since 2009 (when I graduated from UMSI!)

Work in scholarly communications, online journals, digital humanities projects, open access publishing, research impact, and more.

As of 2021: I am your librarian!

If absolutely nothing else:

- Know that a wealth of resources are available to you!
- You don't have to remember everything!
Ask us!

Situating ourselves

- You know what technology you'll be investigating this term
- You're preparing to gather sources and background information for an annotated bibliography

2-minute brainstorm:

- What question(s) are you trying to answer?
- What kinds of sources might help you answer them?

Scholarly Sources

2-minute brainstorm:

- What do we mean by “scholarly” sources?
- Where would you begin a search for such sources?

Scholarly Sources

- Library website
- Research guides
- Subject-specific databases

Library Search results

The screenshot shows a library search interface. At the top, there is a dark blue header with the 'M LIBRARY Search' logo on the left and navigation links for 'My Account', 'My Favorites', 'Log in', and 'Ann Arbor' on the right. Below the header is a search bar containing the text '"social media" elections'. To the right of the search bar is a blue 'Search' button and a link to 'Advanced' search options. Below the search bar is a horizontal menu with tabs for 'Everything', 'Catalog', 'Articles', 'Databases', 'Online Journals', and 'Guides and More'. The 'Everything' tab is selected. Below the menu, a message states: 'Everything: results from the Catalog, Articles, Databases, Online Journals, and Guides and More pages.' The main content area is divided into four columns. The first column, 'Catalog' (191 Results), lists three book entries: 'PakVotes: a social media experiment in elections monitoring / Nadia Nawiwala.', 'Social Media and Fake News in the 2016 Election Hunt Allcott, Matthew Gentzkow.', and 'Social Media and Elections in Africa Theoretical Perspectives and Election'. The second column, 'Articles' (777,389 Results), lists two journal articles: 'Social media's contribution to political misperceptions in U.S. Presidential elections' by Garrett, R. Kelly (2019, PloS one) and 'Social Media and Fake News in the 2016 Election' (Journal Article). The third column, 'Talk to a Library Specialist', features a profile for Catherine Morse, a Government Information, Law and Political Science Librarian, with contact information: 734-936-2333 and cmorse@umich.edu. The fourth column, 'Databases' (1 Results), lists 'Egypt 2008 Web Archive', a database containing 37 Egyptian political and social movement websites in Arabic and English harvested between April 12 to May 31, 2008. A 'Go to database' link and a 'View all Databases results' button with a right arrow are also present.
