Welcome to Detroit!

On behalf of ACBL District 12, it is our pleasure to welcome you to the Compuware Spring 2008 North American Bridge Championships.

Our playing facility, the magnificent 72-story Detroit Marriott Hotel at the Renaissance Center is an outstanding "All-in-One" site that lets you easily play bridge, bridge, and more bridge. All of our playing sites and sleeping rooms are located conveniently near the elevators. Our nightly after-bridge sessions of food and live entertainment are also located right in the playing areas of the Marriott.

A number of firsts are already associated with this NABC. Hundreds of local players have attended pre-NABC workshops offered by our Intermediate-Newcomer player committee. Our transportation committee has arranged incredibly low parking rates in nearby facilities and encouraged registration in an on-line carpooling service to all area players.

If you do need some time off from bridge, please use the information in this Program Guide to take a tour, go to an interesting restaurant, or do a bit of sight-seeing. Walk around the downtown area near the Renaissance Center; take a stroll on the new River Walk; or ride the People Mover which has a stop right in the Renaissance Center.

Our goal is for all of you to have an outstanding experience at this NABC and hopefully win a bushel full of master points in the process. If you need any assistance, please look for any of our volunteers — they'll be wearing large, yellow "Ask Me" buttons.

Your NABC Co-chairs,
Sandy Arlinghaus
Bill Arlinghaus

I Rode the Detroit People Mover

(blazing a trail for thousands of bridge players to follow)

By Marty Hirschman
Restaurant Guide Chair

Detroit's People Mover is clean, safe and incredibly easy to use. It will deliver you to the Greektown restaurants and casino in about five minutes, as well as to most other dinner spots around downtown. And the 15-minute loop provides a terrific tour of the city, including a great view of the Detroit River and Windsor, Ontario, all for just 50 cents.

Just make sure you have two quarters, a People Mover token or a dollar bill to put in the bill changer. Then head for RenCen Level Two and follow the signs to the People Mover, which is at the north or Jefferson Ave. side of the complex.

After putting your money or token in the turnstile, you'll go up the escalator or elevator to the covered but open-air platform. The People Mover car will arrive within four minutes. Hop aboard.

As the car leaves the station, you will be heading east along Jefferson Ave. Immediately, the track swings to the north along Beaubien St.

On the left (all directions assume you are facing forward), two blocks away is the old Wayne County Building.

First stop: Bricktown Station, about two blocks south of Greektown.

Next stop: Greektown. Exit here for the casino and many restaurant choices, Greek and otherwise. It is only about 50 feet from the People Mover car to the first slot machine on the second level of the casino!

As the car leaves the station, you can look right to see down the festive single block of Monroe St. that is Greektown. A few seconds later you will pass Detroit Police Headquarters, then the track swings to the west, passing the old downtown library, a proud structure engraved with quotations like "The Fountain of Wisdom Flows through Books."

The next stop is Cadillac Center Station. Exit here for Campus Martius and Compuware Headquarters. Then the track swings north toward the Sports and Entertainment district, giving you a view of the Detroit Tigers' Comerica Park, the Detroit Opera House, the Fox Theater and Ford Field, home of the Detroit Lions. Two stations, Broadway and Grand Circus Park, serve this area.

Next the track heads back south to the Times Square Station, named for the old Detroit Times newspaper. Look right (west) for a glimpse of the MGM Casino's spectacular new quarters about five blocks away.

Then it is on toward the Michigan Ave. Station. If you look right (west) down Michigan Ave., you can just spot old Tiger Stadium about seven blocks away. The Tigers played there until 1999. On the left, you can see the U.S. Courthouse.

A few blocks to the right as you near the Fort/Cass Station, you can see the Detroit News building, now home to both the News and Free Press under a joint operating agreement.

Cobo Center Station puts you inside the northeast corner of Cobo Hall, the city's main convention venue. Then the People Mover squeals like a New York subway car as it curves through and around Cobo and over to the Joe Louis Arena Station. If you are going to a Red Wings game, get off here at the Gordie Howe Entrance.

As you continue around the Cobo-Joe Louis complex, the tracks swing out to the Detroit River facing Windsor. What a view! Look right and over your shoulder to see the Ambassador Bridge, which connects the two countries. Ahead and to the right you can see the Detroit Princess, an old riverboat that can be hired for parties, then Hart Plaza (home of ethnic and music festivals in the summer), and the large black casting of boxer Joe Louis's fist that hangs at the foot of Woodward Ave.

After the Financial District Station, the track again crosses Woodward Ave. Look left (north) to see the ice skaters at Campus Martius, right to see the Spirit of Detroit statue on the side of the Coleman A. Young Municipal Building, home of the governments of the city and Wayne County. And there's another view of Hart Plaza, including Noguchi's Pylon and the semi-circular Transcending — Labor Legacy Monument designed by local sculptors David Barr and Sergio De Giusti.

As you approach the Millender Center Station, you can see the Old Mariners Church on the right. Services are held there for seamen lost on the treacherous Great Lakes.

After Millender, the tracks cross Jefferson Ave. and take you back to Renaissance Center. Get off here to return to the tournament. Or go around again for another quarter of an hour of sightseeing at no additional charge. This time, if you wish, you can pay more attention to the $2 million of tile murals, paintings and sculptures in the People Mover stations themselves.

Hope you enjoy the ride.

The People Mover, a 2.9-mile counterclockwise loop, opened in 1987. Hours: 6:30 a.m.-midnight Mon.-Thu., 6:30 a.m.-2 a.m. Fri., 9 a.m.-2 a.m. Sat. and noon-midnight Sun.

Detroit dining dictionary, Or "Why is my cheese on fire?"

By Marcy Abramson

Boston cooler: A soda-fountain drink made by mixing vanilla ice cream and Vernors (see below) to the consistency of a milk shake. Named for Detroit's Boston Blvd., where, in the 1880s, local confectioner Fred Sanders began serving them in his shop.

Coney, Coney Island:

A hot dog topped with all-meat (no beans) chili, diced sweet onions and yellow mustard, served in a steamed bun. Also the restaurants where they are served. No one is sure when or where in Michigan coneys were invented. (Hot dogs first appeared in Coney Island NY in the 1860s, but Detroit-style coneys are unknown there.)

Opa! What the server says as the flames engulf the saganaki (see below). Loosely translated it means, "You go!" and is shouted at celebrations.

Pop: Carbonated beverage, such as Coke, Sprite etc. Distinguished from "soda" (see below). Local soft-drink maker Faygo is famous for Redpop, which is very red.

Saganaki: A Greek cheese, such as kasseri, doused with brandy and ignited at tableside in a metal dish. The waiter holds the flaming dish aloft and shouts "Opa!", then douses the flames with lemon juice. This style of presentation is attributed to Detroit's Greektown. The melted cheese is eaten with pita or sometimes other bread.

Sanders Hot Fudge Cream Puff: A dessert from the original Sanders chain. A cream puff is filled with vanilla ice cream and topped with Sanders Hot Fudge, which is light-colored and milk-chocolate based. The Sanders Hot Fudge Cream Puff is a fixture on the menu of Andiamo in the Ren Cen.

Soda: An ice-cream soda. Distinguished from "pop" (see above). Warning: Don't order "soda" if you don't want the ice cream.

Vernors (formerly Vernor's): Dark spicy ginger ale made by the Detroit-based Vernors company. It was created 140 years ago by Detroit pharmacist James Vernor.

Zip sauce: Thin and somewhat mysterious steak topping born at Lelli's, a fine Italian restaurant once downtown but now operating only in the suburbs. Said to be made with butter, Dijon mustard, Worcestershire sauces, beef drippings and spices.

As a girl, Marcy Abramson helped at the soda fountain at her father's pharmacy on Detroit's east side.
