

search:

send us a letter

update your address

about michigan today

sign up for

Michigan Today News
see latest issue here >

Full contents - Spring 2004:

- Assignment Baghdad
How I started a magazine in a war zone, to avoid the post-col market
- Blockbuster
It would be an apt super-hero name for Brad Meltzer '92, author of thrillers and comic book epics.
- With Their Will, They Made Their Way
A dramatic duo convinces the Royal Shakespeare Company to let them do their own rehearsals to budding directors
- The Quest for the Gold-Plated Collision
U-M physicists hope to help prove the existence of the Higgs boson
 - Related Story: The Eventful Life of Bing Zhou
A former motorcycle factory worker is now one of U-M's physicists
- What Makes Us Sick?
The new field of Darwinian medicine seeks to explain what makes our bodies vulnerable to illness
- A Potato Chip Currency Ratio Protected This Fast-Traveler
The price of Pringles proves a potent predictor of a fair rate of exchange
- Spelling Champ-Turned U-M Student Finds Fame is End
Someone will spot Nupur Lala '07 and ask, "Aren't you ...?"
- Reminiscences of 1954 Brown v. Board of Education
Five members of the U-M community recall the impact of the case that outlawed racial segregation in schools
 - Richard Tillinghast
 - Adele Bel Evans
 - B.J. Evans
 - President Mary Sue Coleman
 - Lester Monts

- The Ages of Rock
Jane Scott '41 chronicled them for a half century in the Rock Capital of the United States, Cleveland
- Bear River Writers' Conference 2004
This year's Bear River Writers' Conference will be held June 3 through June 7, at Camp Michigania
- Man or Mouse
To genetic researchers like Miriam Meisler, this is no longer an apples-oranges distinction
- Hill Auditorium Reopens
Historic restoration, modern amenities
 - Related story: Hill Auditorium and Its Historic Site
An octagon house, part of a 19th century architectural craze, stood where Hill is now
- Institute for Humanities offers spring seminar
Maybe taste isn't arguable, but it is discussable

Contents | Letters | Alumnae/Alumni News | U-M Books | Archives
Send us a Letter | Update Your Address | About Michigan Today
Sign up for Michigan Today News-e

Copyright © 2004 The Regents of the University of Michigan
Ann Arbor, MI 48109 USA 1-734-764-1817