

AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL THEOLOGIES:
SUBJECTIVITY AND RELIGIOUS LANGUAGE IN SPIRITUAL NARRATIVES, POETRY, AND HYMNODY BY AFRICAN-AMERICAN WOMEN, 1830-1900

by

Jennifer F. McFarlane-Harris

A dissertation submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy
(English and Women's Studies)
in The University of Michigan
2010

Doctoral Committee:

Professor Sandra R. Gunning, Chair
Professor Kerry C. Larson
Professor Sidonie A. Smith
Associate Professor Martha S. Jones

© Jennifer F. McFarlane-Harris 2010