EEBO-TCP Update at ALA Annual

May 30, 2012 - Posted in News

It has been several years since the Text Creation Partnership has held an update at the American Library Association’s Annual Meeting, and we look forward to reviving the tradition this June. If you will be in Anaheim, we hope you will join us for an afternoon reception, as we celebrate reaching the milestone of 40,000 texts in EEBO-TCP, and look ahead to the future of the project.

The program will include:

- updates on the status of the TCP projects
- a look at the role TCP continues to play in the changing landscape of digital text archives and the growing field of digital humanities
- two brief presentations from TCP users: Harriet Green, English and Digital Humanities Librarian at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign; and Eric Nebeker, Lecturer in the Department of English, University of California, Santa Barbara

TO THE RIGHT HONORABLE Sir Robert Devreux Knight, Erle of Essex and Ewe, Vicount Hereford, and Bourghier, Lord Ferrers of Chartleigh, Bourghier and Lovain, and Maister of her Maiesties Horse.

THE faithfull, true, and dutie, (Right honorable) long since deservedly born, by my deceased Father, both to your lordships Noble Grandfather, and likewise to the famous and worthwhile Erle your Father, (unto whom for divers respects, hee was much bounden being alioe, and being dead, left the like Bond of dutie, in vs his Children towards your Lordship) hath the more emboldened me, (presuming on your Lordships great Courtesies) to publish under your favorable protection, these my unpolished verses, of hir Maiesties wherein, though I haue but shewen my lesden skill, in a Golden Cause, yet hath the same proceeded from such ardent desire, and devotion in me, as thereby it may seeme, in some meane, to merit Toleracion, especially, sith it carrieth a dutifull remembrance, of hir Maiesties most prosperous and peaceable reignge over us: which haung run the full, and Blessed Course, of Nyme and Twenty yeeres; doth now, begin the Thirtheth, to the great joy, and inspeakeable comfort of this hir royall Kingdome: In reverend regard whereof, this poore Poem is most diliuely intended: I humbly therefore, present it to the Courteous acceptation of your most Honorable Lordship: Whom I beseech the Highest to bless, and enrich, with increment of all perfect Honour, long life, and ever during felicite.

Most humble at your good Lordships commandment. M. K.

Thank you heartily for this dress; On My Part you may... All that is within.

I have good cause to thank you for your pains.
Cost to produce an average book: $200-$250
EEBO-TCP Partnership fee for ARL: $50,000-$60,000
By sharing the expense of keying and encoding, each partner library enjoys rights to tens of thousands of carefully produced texts, while paying around 10% (or less) of what it costs to produce them.
- On track to get 70% of the way there—still seeking funding,
- So far: just under 2/3 uptake of Phase I libraries to Phase II.
- Increased interest from libraries who were not Phase I partners
What can you do with the EEBO-TCP texts?

What is the point of all of this?

• Full-text searching in EEBO
• Granular/precise searching constrained to particular part of text
• Sensible, legible rendering as HTML (easy-to-read for undergraduates and other non-experts)
• Accessibility for the print-disabled
What can you do with the EEBO-TCP texts?
What is the point of all of this?
• Mapping early modern London and other digital editions
• Abbot
• ARC: 18thConnect, REKn, and others
• OCR research at Texas A&M, MITH
How can you get involved?

- Tell us about projects, classes, uses of the data at your institution. We'll post links on our site, or feature them in a blog post.
- Encourage faculty and students to contact us with questions and requests.
- Remind users that they can take and use these texts locally and build new kinds of things with them.
- If you're not already an EEBO- TCP partner, talk about it with your library and your users.
Thinking about Phase II? Talk to me today!

Our introductory partnership fee structure has been frozen for several years, but starting July 1, our standard partnership fee will apply. If your library wants to commit to Phase II, let me know ASAP in order to get the introductory rate.
