In less than 10 words, describe the subject of inquiry of the paper. (e.g. Water system development or Service Learning at a zoo in Baltimore)

What is the departmental affiliation of the first author? (Format: School, University, Country; e.g. Lyles School of Civil Engineering, Purdue University, USA)

Screening question:
Did this paper come from the International Development Review, the Service Learning Review, or join the project as a secondary paper?

Note: Primary papers come from the abstract review. Secondary papers are papers we have located through a primary paper or due to prior knowledge. The original source should be indicated in the spreadsheet where you were assigned this article.

- ○ International Development (primary paper)
- ○ Service Learning (primary paper)
- ○ Secondary paper (any subject)

Is this paper focused on international development, service learning, or global service learning?

- ○ International Development
- ○ Service Learning
- ○ Global Service Learning

What is the subject of inquiry of this paper? Is it a direct attempt to evaluate a project? A synthesis of multiple evaluations? A more general review of factors? Something else?

- ○ Evaluation of project(s)
- ○ Synthesis of evaluations, no direct description of any project
- ○ General review of best practices/success factors/frameworks
- ○ None of the above (please specify)

In what country does this paper analyze service learning, international development, or global service learning? If multiple countries, select "Multiple" at the top of the list. If not location specific or not specified, select N/A or Not reported.

Is this paper analyzing a particular project or set of projects? If yes, how many?

○ [_____] Yes (note how many)

○ Yes, the paper is describing a set of projects on which its conclusions are based, but it does not identify, list, or count those projects.

○ No

Briefly describe the type of project(s) being analyzed. If multiple types, say "Mixed," followed by a list (e.g. Mixed, water in rural communities, agricultural interventions, vaccine interventions)
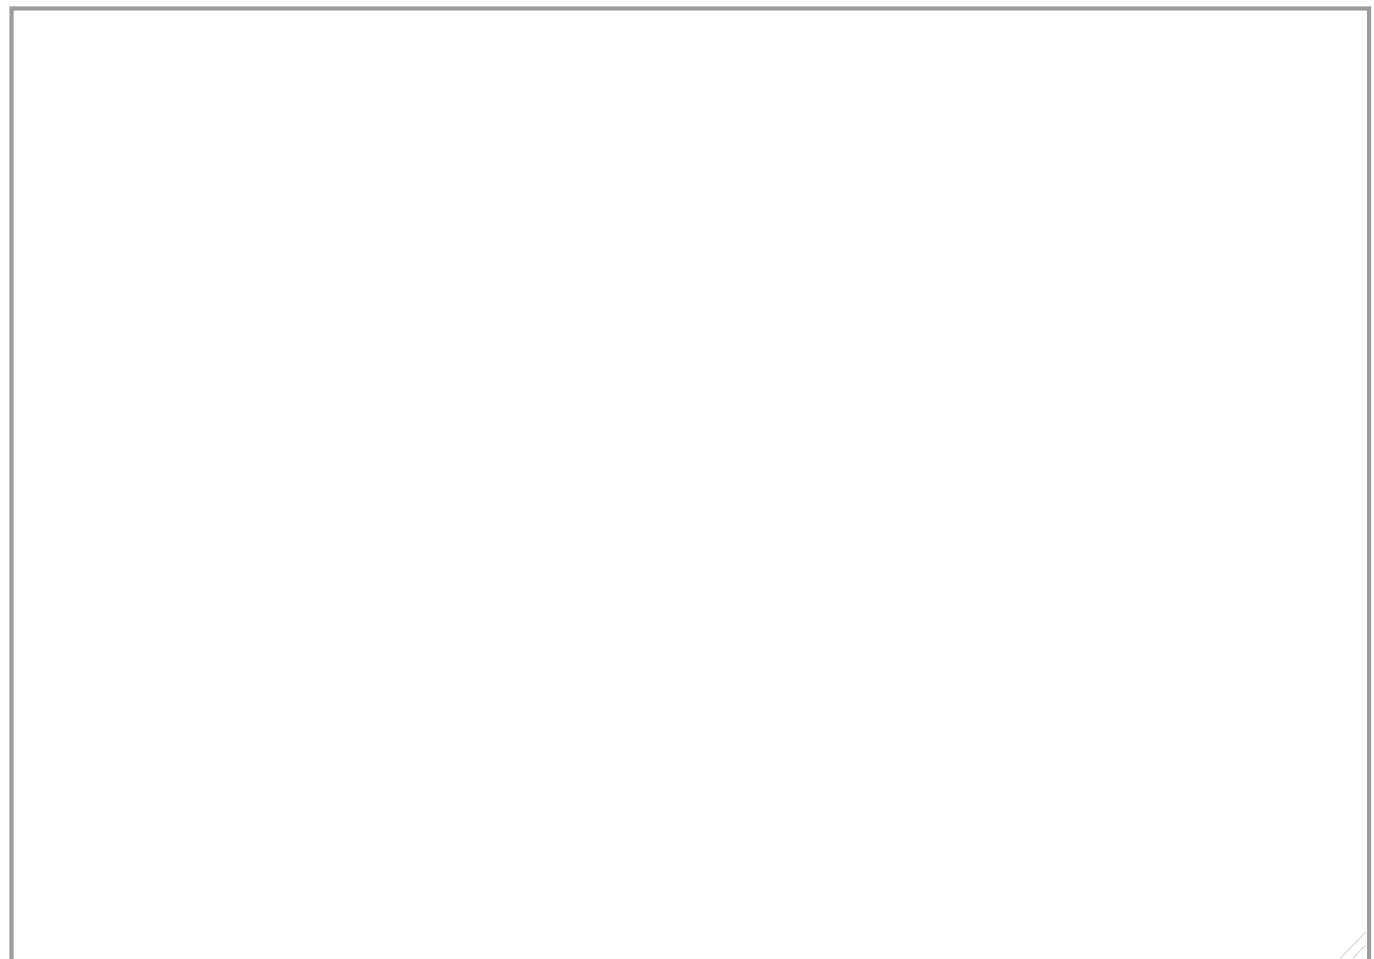

Copy and paste the contents of your analysis document here (primary factors). Make sure that each quote starts its own line and that each is separated by ;;; for parsing. The format should like this:

"Quote quote quote quote" - Pg. 89
"Quote quote quote quote" - Pg. 93

Please list the Secondary factors identified in this paper, using the same format as the other lists. To do so, provide a brief description of the factor, then list the citation which is used by the author. If no citation is associated with the factor, consider whether it might actually be a Primary factor. The format should be as follows:

Description description description...: Citation citation citation citation citation.
;;;
Description description description...: Citation citation citation citation citation.

Please paste the name(s) of the list(s) or framework(s). Include a citation if available. Separate names with three semicolons, again for future parsing. (;;;)

Description description description...: Citation citation citation citation citation.

Description description description...: Citation citation citation citation citation.

Please indicate whether this paper would be helpful to use as an example in the introduction or discussion section of the review manuscript. If yes or maybe, provide a brief explanation.
